Figure 1: Comparison of the q-order singularity exponent hq and corresponding dimension Dq between real fMRI data and generated fMRI data. The results demonstrate that the fMRI data generated by our proposed method exhibit multifractal characteristics that are closer to those of real fMRI data.